

My Success Story

How it All Started

I will never forget that first ride I took on a motorcycle. From that moment on, I was hooked. I formed a lifelong bond that would evolve and grow with every second I spent with these beautiful machines. I bought my first motorcycle while attending Hamilton College. But with a limited mechanical background, I quickly realized this task was both tedious and time-consuming. After working three years in corporate America, I realized the "corporate life" was not for me. It was time to turn my dream of working on motorcycles into a reality and pursue formal training. My local motorcycle shop, which only staffed MMI graduates, encouraged me to enroll in the program, and without hesitation, I committed to a start date and moved down to Florida.

My Time at UTI

I constantly struggled throughout conventional instruction but MMI was different. The hands-on training and emphasis on professionalism engulfed me. The passion and enthusiasm of the instructors along with my desire to fulfill my dream led me to the top of my class. After only two years of schooling, I felt like I gained 10 years of experience. The instructors encompassed a large wealth of knowledge and real life experiences, which I loved to tap into. MMI taught me how to handle real life scenarios with confidence and class.

The Future is Bright

Graduation came faster than I expected, and within a month, I opened my own shop.* My dream finally came true, thanks to the training I received from MMI and my passion. I have been in business for two years now and employ several MMI students. This year I started an intern program and will be sponsoring one select intern to attend MMI. We have been busy from the day we opened our doors and our MMI certificates are displayed loud and proud in our showroom. Without MMI, my dream and success would have never been possible. MMI was truly the final piece to my puzzle of building my own shop.

*MMI cannot guarantee employment or salary. MMI graduates' achievements may vary. For information about our graduation rates, the median debt of students who completed the program and other important information, visit our website at www.uti.edu/disclosure.
